21ST CENTURY SOCIETY

Members of the 21st Century Society give a precious gift to everyone who has Crohn's disease or ulcerative colitis: the promise that future generations will be spared the pain of these illnesses. Donors who name CCFA in their estate plans qualify for entry into this prestigious assemblage. Members of the 21st Century Society can provide for a healthy tomorrow in a variety of ways: wills, bequests (including stock and real estate), insurance policies, annuities, endowment funds, and trusts. Contributors may designate how their gifts are used by CCFA.

The above examples are a limited sampling of how a legacy to benefit CCFA may be accomplished. Please discuss with your attorney the means most appropriate for you. CCFA's general counsel would also be happy to discuss with your attorney how best to accommodate your wishes. For more information, please call or write to the Development Department at CCFA's National Headquarters.

CCFA gratefully acknowledges the foresight, generosity, and commitment of our 21st Century Society members:
